Today's developments in the Rhine crisis:

LONDON — League council
meets to consider Germany's qualified acceptance of invitation to participate in meetings; rejection believed certain; Great Britain to continue peace efforts while France
asks for penalties.

LONDON—France angry at German attitude, calls it "Hitler against the world," threatens to leave meeting if Germany is backed.

BERLIN—Nazi authority warns
penalties against Germany will mean repudiation of foreign debt;
Reich confident of ultimate acceptance of Hitler's peace offer.

FRANKFURT—Hitler to speak
tonight; big military demonstration on anniversary of compulsory army service decree cancelled
in view of foreign situation.

LONDON, March 16.—(UP)—
France informed the league
council, at a secret session today,
that both of Fuehrer Hitler's conditions in his reply to the council's invitation to attend its sessions are unacceptable.

Hitler's conditions were that Germany must take part in the council meeting on equal terms
with the others, and that his proposals for a European peace
agreement be considered.

Condition's Unacceptable

"Germany was invited to the council simply as a Locarno
signatory," Foreign Minister Pierre Etienne Flandin of France told
the secret meeting. "Therefore,
Hitler's two conditions are unacceptable."

Britain still strove to get Germany here and Sir Eric Phipps, British ambassador to Berlin, was understood to have been instructed to ask Hitler to send a representative to the council without stipulations.

The British cabinet, at a noon
meeting, was understood to have decided Germany's explanation
that the word "Alsace" does not mean consideration of Hitler's peace proposals immediately but in
"due course," justifies the new appeal.

Two Support Flandin

It was learned that at the secret meeting, Maximim Litvinov of Russia and Nicholas Titulescu of Roumania supported Flandin's demand for rejection of the German reply. Joseph Beck of Poland did not oppose it.

The speeches continued and the session appeared likely to be a long one.

MARY HALVEY, 91, DIES IN COUNTY INFIRMARY

Mary Halvey, 91, died at 11 a. m.
Sunday at the Pickaway-co home of complications of old age.

She had been an inmate of the home for the last nine years, and previously had resided in the New Holland community.

The body was removed to the Kirk funeral home in New Holland for services and burial.

INSULL DRAWING PLANS FOR NEW RADIO CHAIN

CHICAGO, March 16.—(UP)—
Samuel Insull, fallen utilities magnate, today returned to his paneled office high above the Chicago river to work on plans for a middle western radio chain which will open within six weeks.

DRIVER SLEEPS WHILE POLICE FLAG ENGINE

CHICAGO, March 16.—(UP)— Police Sergeant Walter Gray and Officer Edgar Peterson
took one look at an automobile
stalled on a railroad crossing,
and another at the train roaring down the tracks.

Frantically, they leaped from their car, Peterson waving down
the train with his flashlight.
The train stopped with its cow-
catcher against the automobile.
Officers peered inside the car,
saw a man asleep.

They roused him long enough to hear his name, Carl W. Gie-
bel. The man slept through his trip to Police Station, and spent
a restless night in his cell.

BRICKER URGED AS "KEYNOTER" IN CONVENTION

McNary and Snell Mentioned;
Committee Meets Monday
With Bolton

CLEVELAND, March 16.—(UP)—
Three men were being mentioned
as possible keynoters for the Republican National convention here
next June as the committee on arrangements met today.

The committee was to review
steps taken since January in preparation for the G. O. P. national conclave and to make further plans.

Charles L. McNary, Oregon senator and high tariff advocate; Bertrand Snell, minority floor leader
in the house and a New York congressman, and Attorney General
John W. Bricker, the Republican candidate for governor of Ohio,
have been mentioned as possible
keynote choices.

The committee gathered today
to meet with Chester C. Bolton,
chairman of the local convention
committee, and James L. E. Jappe,
secretary, to discuss convention
details. Later the group was to visit public hall again to inspect it
and go over plans for changes to accommodate the convention delegates and visitors.

General Walkout of Union Labor Seen as Possibility in Rubber City

AKRON, March 16.—(UP)—
Former Mayor C. Nelson Sparks intensified his drive today to purge this industrial city of 250,- 000 of "out-of-town radical leaders" so that the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., can reopen its strike-
besieged plants.

From his headquarters in Ak-ron's main hotel, Sparks, physically slight but known as a "fighter",
directed his campaign to recruit
"50,000 Vigilantes by tonight."
Several score of his closest followers milled in his suite, a half-dozen telephones were kept busy
by persons calling to pledge their support.

Proposal Rejected

Sparks, sworn in as a special
deputy sheriff launched his "Vigilante" organization after union
rubber workers, on strike for four weeks because 70 veteran employees were dismissed, shouted
down a Goodyear peace proposal
at a mass meeting.

"There is not any case here involving the rights and privileges
of a decent union organization
striving to protect their jobs," Sparks said in sounding his appeal
over a radio station.

"The law-abiding people of this community have no quarrel with them. It is this handful of miserable, chiseling leeches, labor agitators, radicals, communists and

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—
(UP)—The story of a 22-year-old mother who gave away her two tiny daughters to strangers was told today as Mr. and Mrs. Einar
Simonsen moved to adopt Mrs.
Linda Jones' two - months - old daughter, Dolores.

"I was desperate," the young mother said, explaining how she

and her husband, who took a third
child, a son, with him, separated
seven months ago. She couldn't bear the thought of her babies
suffering privations, undernourishment or being reared by a stepfather, in the event she remarried,
she said.

From Mrs. Simonsen came the story of how she obtained the younger of the two Jones' babies.

Strolling in Park

She said she heard how a woman was strolling through Jefferson Square, asking passersby:
"Don't you want a baby? My neighbor wants to give her baby
away."

"Don't you want a baby? My
away."

Mrs. Simonsen said she went to the park. She found Mrs. Kathleen Elder, who took her to the basement where Mrs. Jones lived with the infants. Mrs. Jones, she said,
wasn't home.

"That's all right, take the baby.
The mother won't mind." Mrs.
Elder purportedly told her. "If you decide not to keep the child, give it to somebody else."

Mrs. Simonsen took the baby
and went home, leaving her address.

Mother Unworried
Mrs. Jones was unworried about her other child, three-year old Edna.

"I don't know the name of the people who took her," she said.
"But I can find out from Mrs.
Elder. I know the people can give her a lovely home and I'm satisfied with that."

Jones, who has been living with his mother, Mrs. C. H. Hess, in San Bruno, took Marion Edward,
2, with him.

"My husband and I separated
five months before my last baby
was born," Mrs. Jones explained.

Bears 20th Child in 24 Years

ARRIVAL of seven pounds two ounces Pat Alkire in an old story to Mrs. Rachael Alkire, 41, for it is her 20th baby in 24 years. Mrs. Alkire, wife of James Alkire, 46, of Bell, Cal., is shown above in a Los Angeles hospital with Pat, who, incidentally, is the ninth boy in the family. Six boys and nine girls are still living.

Republicans Have Four Contests for Committee

Hedges and Weill, Work and Roth, Mavis and Carothers Vie
in City; All Petitions Approved By Board

Contests for four committeeman positions on the county Republican ticket were disclosed Monday when the board of elections announced it had approved all declarations of candidacies filed up to the deadline Friday evening. There are no Democratic contests.

Primary scraps for committeemen are rare, but the canvass of the names showed that eight men seek four places. Three of the contests are in Circleville and the other is in north precinct of Scioto-twp.

Hedges, Weill Tangle

Ben T. Hedges, former mayor,
and Harry E. Weill, former election board official, have filed petitions for committeeman from the first ward east, precinct A; Joe
B. Work and George Roth are running in first ward east, precinct B; George F. Mavis and Manley Carothers have entered in fourth ward north, precinct E. In Scioto-twp, Charles McKinley and
W. J. Green have filed petitions.

A number of vacancies exist in the complete roster of committee
petitions.
Petitions of all 34 persons in the primary race were approved when
the board met Saturday.

$267.14 Paid In

L. J. Johnson, clerk, reported that candidates paid $267.14 to file petitions. All this money goes into the county treasury.
There is no fee for filing for positions unless there is a salary
connected with the office, then the cost is one-half of one percent of the annual compensation.

A different system may be worked out this spring and fall in regard to tabulating the returns.
The election board office will be closed to all persons except workers, while a sheet carrying the returns just as the board receives
them will probably be available
in some other place. The council chamber is being considered by the board for its office during
the two important elections.

C. A. C. TO PICK OFFICERS

AT TUESDAY EVE MEETING
C. A. C. members will hold their annual election Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. Nominations were made at the regular meeting two weeks ago.

PICKAWAY'S FARMERS HAVE MUCH SEED CORN

Various county farmers have listed approximately 5,000 bushels of 1934 corn, suitable for seed, with the Farm Bureau.

A list of farmers having this corn is being prepared by F. K.
Blair, county agent, and names
will be furnished farmers who are in the market for seed.

W. P. A. STRIKERS HOLDING OFFICE OF LA FOLLETTE

Men Declare They Will Hold Capital Building Until Demands Are Met

MADISON, Wis., March 16 —
(UP)—W. P. A. strikers who have occupied the capitol's assembly
chamber since last Thursday today moved into the office of Gov.
Philip F. La Follette.

Five men in work clothes from
among 125 camped on the legislature's plush-carpeted floor took up station outside the door of La Folette's inner office. The governor has contributed advice and money
to the strikers who warned the national administration to take heed or "loss of life is inevitable."

The strikers demand increase of their $48-a-month pay and discharge of "strike-breakers." They believe La Follette has sufficient influence in Washington to get them a hearing.

FUNERALS HELD FOR VICTIMS OF TRAGIC ACCIDENT

Chapel, Church and Home Crowded With Friends, Relatives of Youths

DRIVER IS RECOVERING

Bodies Laid to Rest in Forest Cemetery After Sunday,
Monday Rites

Large groups of bereaved friends and relatives attended funeral services Sunday afternoon and Monday for Bernard Dowden, Asa Elsea and John McCrady, victims of a tragic automobile-truck collision last Friday evening.

The Dowden funeral was held at 4 p. m. Sunday at the Albaugh chapel with Rev. W. A. Moore of the Williamsport Methodist church officiating. The chapel was filled and a large throng gathered in the street outside the funeral home during the services. Mrs. Frank H.
Kline Jr. sang "Lead Kindly Light" and "In The Garden."

Pall bearers included Connor
List, Lawrence Cupp, Lawrence
Dowden, Walter Lawhorn, Paul
Camp, Harold Dowden, and Gilbert
Dowden Jr.

Services for Asa Elsea were conducted at 10 a. m. Monday in the Methodist Episcopal church by Rev. Herman A. Sayre, who chose for the background of his address
"For thou knowest not what I do now, but thou shalt understand hereafter."

Auditorium Filled

The altar was covered by beautiful flowers. The church auditorium was well-filled.

Mrs. James P. Moffitt and Mrs.
Edwin Bach sang "Sometime We'll Understand" and "The Eastern Gate."

Pall bearers were James I.
Smith Jr., Phil E. Smith, Robert Peters, Boyd Stout, John Jewett, and Max Myers.

Rev. G. L. Troutman of Trinity Lutheran church officiated at services Monday afternoon for John McCrady at the family home,
W. Franklin-st.
He took his text from the Old Testament, Book of Ecclesiastes,
the twelfth chapter "Remember Now Thy Creator in the Day of Thy Youth." Rev. Troutman's scripture readings were the Ninetyth Psalm, and the Book of Romans, eighth chapter verses 31 to 39.

Instead of musical numbers, the pastor read "Jesus Be Our Guide,
"Teach Me the Measure of My Days," and "I Know Full Well
Death Must Beface Me, But I Know Not When Or Where Or How."

Pall bearers were Robert Peters, Cummings Robinson, Norman
Aronson, John Rooney, L. B.
Davison, and Even Merriman.

All three were buried in Forest cemetery.

Truck Driver Recovering

While services were being conducted for the three victims, Harold Carpenter, Columbus truck driver, was making a good recovery from injuries he suffered in the collision. Carpenter, a patient in Berger hospital, is burned about the head, face and right hand.

Hospital attaches reported Monday he may leave the institution
Monday afternoon or Tuesday.

6 PEDESTRIANS KILLED IN STATE BY AUTOMOBILES

Week-End Toll Nine; Columbus Woman Victim of Hit-Skip Motorist

By UNITED PRESS
Pedestrians were victims of at least six fatal traffic accidents in Ohio over the week-end.
The state's week-end accident toll was nine lives.
Miss Thelma Davis, 30, was struck and killed by a hit-skip automobile driver at Columbus. A witness reported the driver of the car got out, looked at the woman's body, and then drove away.
Rosetta James, 6, Cleveland, was killed by an automobile while walking to Sunday school.
Steve Drago, 40, was fatally hurt by an automobile while walking along a road between Lorain and Elyria.

Howard Irons, 30, was struck and killed at Youngstown and Michael Wattras, 50, was killed in a similar accident near Cleveland.
John W. Smart, 68, of Heckley Corners, O., was struck and killed
by an automobile near his home.
The driver was J. C. Roberts, Fremont high school teacher, who was enroute to a basketball tournament at Sandusky.
Harry E. Renner, 22, pushed his wife, Marie, 20, from the rear seat of his motorcycle just before it collided with an automobile driven by Walker Beltz, 18, of Creston, near Akron. Renner was killed and his wife received bruises.
Floyd A. Lewis, 32, Jackson-co farmer, was killed when his car left the road at a curve and plunged over a 30-foot embankment.
An automobile collision near Dayton resulted in the death of Robert Medford, 27, of Vandalia, and serious injury of his wife,
Gertrude, 22.

Tall Tales

PICKAWAY-CO was known years ago for its numerous flocks of wild turkeys, and a tall story was offered today on these birds.

A local farmer, before retiring one night, heard turkeys in a tree near his home. He decided he would arise quite early the next morning and get the birds.
During the night a sleet storm descended on the vicinity and the following morning the tree was filled with turkeys and their feet were frozen to the branches.

The farmer called in a number of neighbors and they decided to cut down the tree and there would be turkeys for everyone.
When the last ax stroke was made the turkeys all started flapping their wings, and went sailing away with the huge tree.

GOTHAM STRIKE REACHES CLOSE

Elevators in Use; Dry Goods
Tie-Up Flaring Monday

NEW YORK, March 16.—(UP)— Thousands of New Yorkers rode elevators to offices and apartments today for the first time in 15 days as 40,000 building service workers ended a strike begun March 1.
Simultaneously a strike of wholesale dry goods workers disrupted an industry that does a $100,000,000 business annually with retailers throughout the country.

The dry goods strike began yesterday with employees of the
B. I. B. company and Mandel & Cohen, two of the city's largest jobbers.

James J. Bambrick, local union president, credited Mayor La Guardia with winning the settlement in the elevator fight.

Following are the prize winning recipes for the past week in the Household contest for favorite recipes of Herald readers and the names of persons submitting the winners. These recipes are very practical and we suggest you plan to use them at your earliest opportunity.

FIRST PRIZE

Submitted by
Mrs. Frank Kline, Jr.
S. Court St.

TOMATO SANDWICH SALAD

Fill shallow loaf pan $\frac{1}{2}$ full of Tomato Aspic. Chill. Soak one teaspoon gelatin in two tablespoons cold water and dissolve over boiling water. Add to one cup mayonnaise and mix well. Spread this over firm layer of tomato in pan. Again chill. When this has set, cover with another layer of Tomato Aspic and place in refrigerator until ready to serve. Unmold on salad plate and surround with small heart leaves of lettuce. Slice, or cut in squares for serving. Serves 8 to 10. No extra salad dressing is necessary. May be prepared in individual molds if desired. For variation add $\frac{1}{2}$ cup mayonnaise, 1 cup cottage cheese, season with grated onion.

This recipe was accompanied by a Circle City Dairy bottle cap.

SECOND PRIZE

Submitted by
Mrs. Virgil Cress
535 S. Court St.

HAM LOAF

1 lb. cured ham
1 lb. fresh ham
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup Minute Tapioca
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce
2 eggs. (Mix all ingredients together and form in a loaf. This mixture is very moist. It will hold its shape much better, if placed in the refrigerator a short time before baking).

Sauce

$\frac{1}{2}$ cups brown sugar
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup vinegar
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup water
1 tablespoon mustard

Boil sauce 5 minutes and let cool. Pour sauce over the ham loaf. Bake 2 hours in a moderate oven. Baste every half hour.

This recipe was accompanied by a Circle City Dairy bottle cap.

THIRD PRIZE

Submitted by
Mrs. K. J. Herrmann
118 N. Washington St.

CHEESE PUFFS

1 egg
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk
1 cup grated cheese
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
Salt and pepper.

Beat egg; add milk and sift dry ingredients, cheese and seasonings. Beat well. Drop by spoonfuls into hot fat 375°F. Fry to a golden brown and drain on absorbent paper. Serve as a luncheon dish with Rarebit Sauce.

Rarebit Sauce

1 teaspoon Cornstarch
1 tablespoon fat
1 cup rich milk or thin cream
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup mild cheese cut in pieces
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon baking powder
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon dry mustard
Dash of cayenne

Melt fat, add cornstarch and mustard mixed together. Stir until well mixed; then add milk gradually stirring constantly. Cook until thickened, add cheese and stir until melted. Add baking powder and seasoning. This is a splendid Lenten dish.

This recipe was accompanied by a Laurelville Milling Co. flour sack.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Do you know that Pepper is the most widely used condiment in the average home, yet few housekeepers state the variety they want when ordering it. Black and white pepper are both from the same source, the fruit of a climbing shrub. The real strength of the pepper berry is found in the outer shells of which Black pepper is made. In White pepper these outer shells are partially removed. White pepper is easier to digest and is preferred in cream soup and sauces. Cayenne or red pepper comes from the capsicum plant and is an extremely hot pepper. Paprika, which is a pulverized sweet red pepper, is not so fiery in taste but adds a mild peppery flavor to food. There are two kinds of Paprika, the Hungarian which is very pungent and the Spanish which is very mild.

To make strong tea, instead of using more tea leaves, add a lump of sugar to the pot. This causes the leaves to open and improves the flavor.

PRIZE WINNERS—

Imagine the cook who takes a scoop of this, a pinch of that and a dash of the other—tosses 'em together and passes the stuff over the flame. No one would eat this cook's food, but many do buy photographs made in the same style. We use tested chemicals, approved formulae and meticulous methods—the only assurance of pictures that last.

HISTORY UP TO DATE

IRREVERENCE for historic objects could hardly reach greater depths than in the case of that Cincinnati landmark along the Ohio River, once a church dating back to the earliest settlers, which today is not only being torn down, fate met by many an old church in the march of progress, but is being obliterated to make room for a parking station. And before this last blow at tradition it was a night club.

Carved timbers are reported to record how the originator of the historic building fell, in 1790, in an Indian attack. It was built on a site that in even earlier days was the place where worshippers met under a tree to hold services. One careless pioneer, it is carved on the original wood, was fined 75 cents because he came to devotions without his gun as a precaution against the hated redskins. Imperious Caesar, dead and turned to clay, Hamlet reflected, might stop a hole to keep the wind away, but at least there was some of Caesar left. After the parking station shall have arrived at its bright colors, its smooth subdivisions and its courteous attendants, what will be left of its days of sacred and profane glory when tomahawks were prominent features of the landscape?

A parking station is unquestionably a necessity in a day of inconceivable. But some historical society or other treasurer of the sacred past ought at least to preserve the record of that penalty for leaving one's gun behind.

EUROPE'S CRISIS

THERE can be no doubt that Germany has precipitated a crisis of marked gravity for the immediate future of Europe. In seizing the demilitarized Rhineland without regard for the provisions of the Locarno Treaty, Hitler has seriously weakened his proposed negotiation of a 25-year peace pact and caused France to question the advisability of even conferring with a nation which acts first and then suggests a process of pacific deliberation.

The present difficulty is that Hitler cannot withdraw from the disputed area without appearing to back down in the face of world opinion. And France cannot negotiate without seeming to bow before the iron fist of German militarism.

It is possible that Great Britain, as in

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

SLEMP CALLED TO WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON — C. Blascom Slemple, secretary to the late President Coolidge and one of the canniest strategists in the Republican Party, got the surprise of his life recently. He was summoned to the White House by President Roosevelt for advice.

No word of the secret conversation has leaked from Slemple, but White House attaches have been less circumspect.

Roosevelt welcomed him warmly and then floored him with the question: "Bascom, what's wrong with my Administration?"

"Do you want it straight-from-the-shoulder, Mr. President?" asked Slemple. "That's why I sent for you, Bascom. Don't pull your punches."

Slemple didn't. For over an hour he told Roosevelt in detail what he thought was wrong. Frankly and bluntly he criticized policies and individuals and gave his reasons.

The President listened intently and sympathetically. When Slemple finished he thanked him warmly, asking him as a "personal favor" to send him a written memorandum listing the points he had made.

Slemple agreed, and spent several days preparing it. The document is now in the locked personal file of the President.

Note—Slemple is not the only Republican or New Deal critic the President has secretly consulted of late. Several leading congressional foes have had candid talks with him at his invitation.

Reason for the President's strategy is not clear, and he has not seen fit to elucidate. But it is supposed that he wants to figure out ways to meet Republican arguments.

RELIEF RABBIT

President Roosevelt may pull another rabbit out of his hat—just as startling as the corporation-surplus tax proposal — when he sends Congress his special message on relief.

He is seriously considering a plan calling for a relief program of seven months instead of twelve. That is, instead of submitting a budget covering the whole of the coming fiscal year—July 1, 1936 to July 1, 1937—he would ask for funds to cover the program only up to February 1, 1937.

the case of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute, will prove to be the ameliorating factor. France cannot afford to act without British cooperation, and Germany would scarcely pursue a course which, as the very outset, threatened to involve a clash with John Bull.

America, meanwhile, will continue to watch the developments from the vantage point of disinterested internationalism. Sentiment in this country is emphatically opposed to direct or indirect interference in the affairs of Europe.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

Former President Hoover has made no hotel reservations for attendance at the Republican national convention. But Governor Landon of Kansas, Colonel Knox of Chicago and Senator Vandenberg of Michigan have. Undoubtedly Senator Borah of Utah will be on hand.

Mr. Hoover seemed to disappear as a potential nominee when Governor Merriam of his home state of California declared for Governor Landon.

Matters are moving slowly toward arrangements for the Cleveland convention. Chairman Farley's wheels seem to move more smoothly for the Democratic convention in Philadelphia.

The convention hall in Cleveland—a massive affair—will be cleaned and repaired inside. Work will begin in a few days—with WPA funds allotted by the Roosevelt administration to the tune of more than $300,000 for the benefit of the Republicans. (Cleveland itself will add some to that.)

Not only the Republicans but the Socialists will benefit from the WPA expenditure. The national convention of the Socialists—in the same hall—will precede that of the Republicans.

Even the Socialists will have fireworks. There is a left wing and a right wing.

And Communists may walk up and down the streets in front of the huge auditorium denouncing the Socialists for being reactionaries. Goodness knows what the Communists will say of the Republicans.

IN MARBLE HALLS

Within the convention structure is blessed with marble halls. And one of its auditoriums, a music hall, has soft carpets and beautiful drapes. This will be thrown open, through its stage, which has a disappearing wall, with the main convention hall.

Thus, both Socialists and Republicans will orate on the state of the nation from a scene indicating that some towns at least spend a great many million dollars on public halls.

A CITY OF MUSIC

Cleveland abounds in plain halls and music halls. The music hall in which its symphony orchestra and its local opera have their home is a "thing of beauty to behold."

But none of the halls (one has the distinction of being entirely underground—under the Mall) is equivalent to one in the outdoors in the heart of the city. Cleveland's Public Square is a place of public speech unfettered. Only one mayor in memory tried to interfere with that free speech—and he was kicked out of office some months later.

Here it is that speakers will have their own say while the Republicans are declaiming in the convention hall a few blocks away.

"A DARN FOOL THING"

In free speaking Cleveland, a free-speaking college president spoke freely.

Dr. Stanley King, a shoe manufacturer who became president of Amherst college, asserted that teachers' oaths to uphold the constitution are "a darn fool thing."

Dr. King added: "You can't legislate the loyalties of people any more than you can legislate their appetites."

STEINER?

Rumors persist that Republican "bosses" have "chosen" Senator Frederick Steiner of Oregon to be the Republican nominee.

It is becoming more and more questionable, though, whether a "dark horse" sprung at the last moment would be able to get anywhere in the Cleveland convention. A "hero" will have to be chosen, to defeat President Roosevelt. Nobody in Cleveland (among the citizenry) seems to know who Senator Steiner is.

Well, he was born Oct. 13, 1883, at Jefferson, Marion-co., Oregon (thus is 52). He is a graduate of Oregon State college and the University of Oregon.

He is a lawyer, and followed the usual course of lawyers who enter politics. He was district attorney, 1913-16; state senator, 1917; served in the World War (thus might appeal to war veterans), was elected to the senate in 1926 and was re-elected in 1932.

His home is in Portland. He married in 1911, and has two children.

He is a conservative Republican, who would not likely stray from the range.

CHAPTER 40

THE TURMOIL of thoughts beating against Thora's tired brain was stilled by a hurried rap on the door. She roused with a start, pushed the hair away from her eyes. With a hasty pause before her mirror, she answered the summons.

Nellie, the maid, was there. "Excuse me, Miss Thora," she began breathlessly, "but I got to speak to you a minute."

"Of course, Nellie. Come in. What is it?"

The girl closed the door and stood with her back against it. Her face was flushed and there were tears in her eyes.

"Why, I saw Mr. Babbas come in and . . . I wasn't sure I put the towels in his bathroom, so . . . I went up with some and . . ."

"Yes?"

The color in Nellie's cheeks deepened; her eyes fell.

"He . . . he got fresh."

"Oh."

"Yes, he did. I'm not going to stand for that from any guy . . . I don't care who he is!" The tears in the maid's eyes were those of anger.

"Of course not, Nellie," Thora tried to speak calmly, although her own eyes darkened with the warmth of her indignation. The maid was little more than a child and pretty.

"I am glad you told me, dear. After this, you need not attend to that room. I will take care of it."

"Oh, thanks, Miss Thora! I didn't know just what to do. At first, I was going to tell Ted because I knew he'd."

"No, no!" Thora interrupted swiftly. "We mustn't do anything like that. Mr. Babbas should not have forgotten himself of course, but he lives in another country . . . where people have different ideas than we do. I'm sure he meant no harm."

"Then he'd better go back," Nellie suggested darkly. "I'm not going to have any foreigner pawing me!"

"I know. But we must remember that Mr. Babbas is Miss Wilma's . . . guest. Don't mention this to anyone, please. Try to forget it. Everything will be all right."

"To do anything you want me to, Miss Thora."

"I know. Run along now."

Thora sank wearily into a chair, as the door closed behind her caller. What a day this had been.

The past few hours seemed like some dream. It was hard to realize that it all was true . . . that it must be true. Sherman Gordon had told her that he loved her. He wanted her to believe that he had loved her from the first time that he ever saw her. That accounted for some of the things he had said when they first met, for that surprising declaration that had marked their first ride together. She could understand now.

It did not occur to Thora now to doubt Gordon's sincerity. He had been so in earnest when he told her of his love, his lean face and dark eyes alight with intensity. He believed what he was saying, but . . .

But why had there been no answering thrill?

After all, it was the first time any man had ever told Thora Dahl that he loved her. Mr. Gordon had not asked her to marry him. But it was a proposal. He had spoken about his father and mother . . . of course, that was what he meant. Perhaps a man did fall deeply in love like that, suddenly.

"He . . . he got fresh."

Any woman might be proud to win the love of a man like Sherman Gordon. There was no question that he was very much a gentleman. Even Mr. Marsh had admitted that he said he had "brains and breeding." And Mrs. Steele . . . her words kept returning to Thora's mind. "Brilliantly wealthy . . . a very wonderful catch for some lucky girl." Why had she said that? Could it be possible that Mr. Gordon had said something to Mrs. Steele? As he admitted he did to Mr. Marsh? Was Mrs. Steele trying to further his cause, possibly for reasons of her own? It all was so confusing.

Through and above it all was a dull wonder that she was not more elated. She was conscious only that her heart was filled with a strange unrest. It was almost a hurt. Why?

As she tried to recall it, that had come with Mr. Gordon's reference to Selwyn Marsh. Just why did he think that Mr. Marsh should be told? He was in no way responsible for Thora Dahl. This might very easily change their relations now . . . it was almost sure to. Mr. Marsh might even think that she had taken advantage of his kindness by trying to win his young neighbor for herself.

In her perplexity, Thora did not allow herself to be particularly concerned over Nellie's visit and its cause. She had tried to be fair in her conclusions about Mr. Babbas. This last episode filled her with something very near disgust. It seemed such a pity that Wilma was about to give herself to a man like that . . . what chance of happiness could she ever have? Why hadn't Mr. Gordon fallen in love with Wilma instead? It would have seemed so suitable for all concerned. Life at Fair Acres had promised so much for Thora . . . temporary peace and rest, at all events. Instead, there had been one disturbing situation after another. She was suddenly conscious that she was very tired. Of everything. It was a temptation, almost, to subscribe to Wilma's philosophy. Even if she never learned to love Sherman Gordon, she could insure the future for herself and . . .

She roused herself with a start. It was time to dress, to go down and oversee the dinner arrangements. After all, she was Selwyn Marsh's housekeeper. Nothing more . . . even that place was not secure now.

As she stood before the mirror arranging her hair, staring rather curiously at the girl in the glass, she believed that she understood one of the underlying causes of her heart's ache.

She was homesick! Suddenly and desperately homesick.

If only she could go to her mother with her difficulties, rest her tired head on that gentle shoulder, feel those slim arms about her . . . as when she was a little girl. That was denied her now. As far as she could know, it always would be that way. Unless . . . If she accepted Sherman Gordon, it might be the way out. Hjalmar Dahl would approve, in time . . . allow her to come home. . . .

Thinking of that again! It wouldn't do.

She was giving the last touches to her toilet, when there came another rap on her sitting room door. Thinking that Nellie must have returned, she walked from the bedroom, calling out a pleasant, "Come in."

The door opened. Alec Babbas stood there, smiling.

Poems That Live

COMPENSATION

Because I had loved too deeply,
Because I had loved so long,
God in His great compassion
Gave me the gift of song.

Because I have loved so vainly,
And sung with such faltering breath,
The Master, in infinite mercy,
Offers the boon of death.

THE OLD MASTER

JAKE SCHAEFER, SR., WAS THE GREATEST BILLIARD PLAYER OF THEM ALL. IN 1879 RULES MAKERS INVENTED 8-INCH BALKLINE, HOPING TO HANDICAP HIM. WHEN HE BECAME UNBEATABLE AT THAT GAME, 14-INCH BALKLINE WAS DEvised — THAT FAILED TO STOP HIM SO 18-INCH BALKLINE WAS CREATED — BUT "OLD JAKE" REIGNED SUPREME UNTIL THE TURN OF THE CENTURY.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

A LIFE SAVER

IT IS A SOUND rule not to make an opening bid upon a bare two and one-half quick tricks. There should be some added values, such as ability to show another suit, support for a shift by partner or rebid values in the suit called. South had none of these added values, hence he primarily was responsible for final results. Had South passed, it is certain that neither West nor North would have bid. East was a conservative, who probably would not have opened bidding fourth hand upon his holdings.

Bidding went: South, 1-Diamond; North, 2-Clubs, which partner's opening bid justified; East, 2-Hearts; South, passed, hoping that he had not stirred up a hornet's nest, and trusting that both West and North would pass; West, 3-Hearts; East, 3-Spades, when I think he should either have gone game in hearts or passed; West, 4-Hearts, which North doubled.

Of course it is self-evident that the defenders might have won a single trick in each major suit. They did that but also they might have won two tricks in the diamond suit bid by South. Naturally South dreaded making an opening lead from his diamond major tenace. He automatically led the top club, as North had both bid that suit and doubled. Dummy's Q took the trick. Then in rapid succession declarer led off the three remaining club honors held in dummy, discarding thereon all four of his low diamonds.

South refused the fourth club led, for the first defensive trick. South then led the Ace of diamonds, only to have it ruffed. The K of hearts drew the Ace. North made the best return lead, a club, hoping that South might be able to outruff declarer, but that proved to be impossible, as declarer ruffed with his 10, then picked up the outstanding trumps with his Q. There was nothing more to the play, except to give South his Ace of spades, thus easily making his 4-odd. That opening club lead was a life saver for declarer.

Very Young?"

Who was Abelard's famous innamorata?

Correctly Speaking—

The use of the word "certainly," as a means of emphasis in relation to matters on which no doubt has been cast, is a colloquialism, and its over-use is monotonous.

FOR DIGESTION'S SAKE—SMOKE CAMELS

150-POUND DYNAMO! Tommy Bridges, of the World Champion Tigers, says: "Ball players have to watch digestion. I find Camels a real aid in helping digestion. They set me right!"

WIZARD ON SKIS, Sig Buchmayr, says: "It seems to me that after good food there's nothing like smoking a Camel to aid digestion and build up a fine feeling of well-being."

Smoking Camels eases tension—stimulates digestion—and fosters a feeling of well-being! . . .

Again and again, we make up for lost time by eating in a hurry. Digestion must meet the strain. How fortunate that smoking Camels during and after meals definitely stimulates digestion and helps to ward off the effects of our hurried, nerve-racking life—by aiding and restoring the natural flow of the digestive fluids. Today, the pleasure of smoking Camels is being everywhere recognized as a comforting and healthful part of the art of dining. Camels are incomparably mild. They never get on your nerves or tire your taste. Enjoy Camels for their matchless blend of costlier tobaccos—for their energizing "lift"—for the welcome feeling of well-being they bring you. Camels set you right!

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.

COUGHING AGAIN?

DON'T be that worst pest of all—the frequent sufferer from coughs due to colds—who passes germs on to her friends in the office and at every party. Sturdy, vigorous people who keep themselves in good physical condition are not so frequently the ones who sneeze and cough.

Buy Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery from your drug-gist today. It increases the appetite, aids digestion and thereby helps to build greater physical resistance. It has also proved of value in relieving coughs due to colds. Try it!

STEEPLEJACK JOE BECK: "Many a time my stomach tightens in a high spot—but you wouldn't know it from the hearty way I eat. I'm very careful about keeping good digestion—I smoke Camels. They help to stimulate my digestion."

Another Man, Wife Team On Air Series Tuesday

Eddie Dowling and Wife Ray Dooley Appear With Goodman Band; Television to Change Announcing System

ANOTHER HUSBAND and wife team, perhaps new to many radio fans but veteran Broadway campaigners of extensive musical comedy and variety fame, make their bow and on a weekly network program, Tuesday at 10 p. m.

They are the Dowlings—Eddie Dowling and Ray Dooley, to be exact.

Other radio husband-wife teams, all of whom are air veterans now, include the Jack Benny-Mary Livingston, George Burns-Gracie Allen and Fred Allen-Portland Hoffa combinations.

Benny Goodman's swing orchestra furnishes the music for this new radio revue.

In World of Entertainment

THE MERE MALE is due to lose supremacy in another job when television becomes established in the United States. If a certain development in London today is a criterion.

Since the inception of radio the male announcer has had his field almost to himself. But in London British Broadcasting corporation is training a corps of pretty girls to be announcers when television, due in April, makes its bow.

Glamor and not grammar will be the prime requisite when wireless becomes visual as well as vocal, it seems.

And here is one vote for glamor. Under the current system of male announcers we haven't been getting much grammar, anyway.

NOTES—Wayne King orchestra program will switch, April 26, from Columbus to Mutual system. . . . Mexico now has amateur air programs. . . . Mae Murray may be heard soon during a Rudy Vallee hour. . . . Though radio's other name is wireless, the call letters of an Indianapolis station spell WIRE. . . . You'll hear George Jessel again, on the Al Jolson program, April 18. . . . Russian operas, by Shostakovich and Krennikov, will be networked by CBS from Moscow, on March 22 and April 5. Both dates are Sundays. . . . Morton Downey, an ice cream soda fiend, is trying to cut down. If Mort succeeds in dropping his soda intake to two per day he wins a $75 bet with the missus (the former Barbara Bennett). . . . Donald Richberg (late of the NRA) will give you his ideas, March 24, in "The Constitution and the New Deal" over an NBC-WEAF network. . . . Believe it or not, but Fibber McGee (claimant of radio prevaricating championship) won, as a kid, a Sunday school contest as the most truthful boy. . . . Fibber, then started even with George Washington—and now look! . . . "La Rondine", Puccini's comedy version of Verdi's opera, "La Traviata", will be given its first American airing over an NBC hookup, March 21. . . . Marion Talley comes back to radio in a series of network concerts beginning April 3. . . . Dr. James B. Conant, Harvard university president, will pay a tribute, via an NBC-WJZ network, to the late Charles W. Eliot, former president of the school, on Eliot's anniversary, March 20.

MANY NEW FIVES ENTERED IN OHIO COURT CONTESTS

Only 12 of 32 Teams Returning; Canton and Marietta Considered Contenders

The pairings for Thursday's first round Class A games follows:

1 p.m., Cincinnati Elder vs. Newark; 2 p.m., Ashland vs. Akron S.; 3 p.m., Bowling Green vs. Miamisburg; 4 p.m., Bridgeport vs. Cleveland Holy Name; 6 p.m., Carrollton vs. Toledo Woodward; 7 p.m., Marietta vs. Akron Buchtel; 8 p.m., Canton McKinley vs. Dayton Roosevelt; 9 p.m., Findlay vs. Elyria.

COLUMBUS, March 16.—(UP)—Names with an unfamiliar ring to followers of the annual Ohio Scholastic basketball tournament dominate the entry list of state meet to be held here Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Delegated to the sidelines, as representatives of schools victorious in the recent district tournaments gathered here today to draw for opponents, were such staunch tournament favorites of past years as Dayton Stivers, Zanesville, Dover, Akron West, Columbus Central, and Columbus North.

In their places were schools that will make their initial bid for a place in the schoolboy basketball spotlight.

Many Are Strangers

Of the 32 competitors for the state meet, only 12 have ever previously taken part in a tournament here since play went under the supervision of the Ohio High School Athletic association in 1923.

Nine of the competing Class A schools have participated at least once before, but the Class B list shows only three entrants that ever before vied for the scholastic crown.

Class A schools that have competed before are Canton McKinley, Akron South, Bowling Green, Findlay, Ashland, Carrollton, Dayton Roosevelt, Miamisburg and Marietta.

The teams that will make their debut are Bridgeport, Akron Buchtel, Elyria, Cleveland Holy Name, Toledo Woodward, Newark, and Cincinnati Elder.

The three B schools, each of which competed once before, are: Lowellville, Rawson and Granville. The newcomers are: Amsterdam, Dennison, South Amherst, Canal Fulton, Sandusky St. Marys, Point Place, Celina Public, Millersport, Ross Township, Waynesville, Lucasville, and Leesburg.

Only two of the Class A competitors have shown often enough to become tournament standouts, namely Canton McKinley and Marietta.

The trip here this week will be the sixth for McKinley and Marietta's fifth.

Lost to Dayton Five

The Canton school competed previously in 1924-28-29-30-31. In 1928 it went to the finals before falling 25 to 20 before a Dayton Stivers team that opened with the triumph a three year reign of the state's scholastic court domain. In 1930, as Stivers completed its tenure as the schoolboy king, McKinley was beaten 25 to 18 by the Dayton team in the semi-final round. A year later it went to the finals before losing a 20 to 19 overtime contest to Portsmouth.

For four seasons Canton failed to make the grade, but it is back now and must be considered a powerful championship possibility.

Marietta came to the state meet in 1923-24-26-33. Its best performance was in 1933 when Jimmy Whiting, the ace of Marietta college's Ohio conference championship five during the past season, led it to the finals before it lost to Dover 34 to 23.

NOTRE DAME VICTORIOUS IN CENTRAL TRACK MEET

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 16.—(UP)—Notre Dame was champion of the central intercollegiate track conference again today, after a four-year furlough from the throne it occupied for six years in a row.

The Irish winners annually from 1927 to 1932, recaptured the championship Saturday night with 11 points, far ahead of Marietta's second-place total of 20½. Pittsburgh, favorite and defender, finished third with 18½, followed by Drake 15½, Michigan Normal 15, Michigan State 15, Wayne State 10, North Central 10, Kansas State 8, Carleton 4½, Grinnell 4, Ohio University 4, Washington University 3.

A highway linking Lima and Peru, has been completed, opening up to tourist travel number of Incan ruins.

About This And That In Many Sports

What Of Softball Loop?

The question of a softball league for Circleville has come up again, and, as usual there are several important things to be settled before such a league can become a reality—First is financing; second is a proper location; third is umpiring ***

All Are Important

Each question is sufficient to cause much apprehension before persons interested launch a league—The financial subject is always ticklish—Last year a fence was built and a backstop erected, then the league was broke—Collections could not be forced, and an effort to obtain money by charging admission for automobiles resulted in auto drivers keeping their vehicles off the field, or staying at home—There is absolutely no chance to charge fair into the games—It is taken for granted the Southern Ohio Electric Co. field, loaned with no charge at all by utility officials, is not suitable because of possibility of high water which last year, forced the end of the season—The umpiring topic has, and ever will be, too difficult for most team managers—When a man is working without pay, it is hard to obtain an arbiter who will take time to learn the rules of the game, be present in time to start every game, and take the responsibility he should ***

Must Answer Questions

A league would be mighty fine, and there is no one who would like better than the Janitor of this column to have a league, but will someone please come through with answers to the three questions before calling a meeting to start organization ***

Monday's Brainstorm

HERR PROFESSOR ZADOK DUMBUROFF ate five limburger meringue sandwiches with plenty of dill pickle, knocked off four cups of coffee and sat down to enjoy his newspaper. He fell asleep.

When Dumburoff awakened eight hours later he looked pale and haggard from his exertions as jockey to a stable of high-spirited nightmares.

"I've been dreaming about the things I read on the front page," said the professor, "and now I have the world news well in hand."

"Dizzy Dean is a holdout in the Liberty league but I don't think they should permit Shirley Temple to remilitarize the Rhineland. Sanctions may be applied against Joe Louis."

"The Dionne quintuplets are secretly mobilizing as a result of the secret, non-aggression pact between Rudy Vallee and Governor Alf Landon."

"Soil Erosion is a good bet in the third race at Tropical park but my money is on Rainy Season with E. Mussolini up."

"Manchoukuo is a cinch to win the Olympics though we must concede the 100-yard dash to Anthony Eden. Frank Buck is planning a safari to Detroit and hopes to bring the Tigers back alive. Weather report: Deans will be dizzier with an increase in Borah in the middle-west. Not much change in temperature."

STRATEGY OF KANSAS ACE WINS COLUMBIAN FEATURE

NEW YORK, March 16.—(UP)—Glenn Cunningham, barrel-chested Kansas runner and world record holder for the mile, revealed today that he didn't decide on the strategy which won him the Columbian mile in the K. of C. games in Madison square garden Saturday night until after the race was under way.

Cunningham's surprise tactics consisted of making Joe Mangano, Cornell graduate student, and Gene Venzke, Pennsylvania, set the pace in the strangest race ever run indoors in New York. Only 250 yards of the weird event proved a race, but in that driving finish to the tape Cunningham drew one of the greatest ovations of the season from the crowd of 17,600. Cunningham, who trailed all the way, passed his two rivals, who have beaten him consistently all season, and won by three yards in the amazingly slow time of 4 minutes, 46.8 seconds.

FOXX CLUBS HOME RUN

TAMPA, Fla., March 16.—(UP)—A home run by Jimmy Foxx which traveled 457 feet on the fly featured yesterday's game between the Cincinnati Reds and Boston Red Sox. The Reds collected 16 hits, and won 13 to 8. Foxx hit his long homer off Gene Schott with two men on base.

Coach at Cornell

CARL G. SNAVELY, successful football coach at the University of North Carolina, is new coach at Cornell, having signed a three-year contract at a salary believed to be $8,500 a year. Snavely steps into the post vacated by the resignation of Gil Dobie, who now is head coach at Boston college.

MICHIGAN WINS BIG TEN INDOOR CONTEST HONORS

CHICAGO, March 16.—(UP)—The Big Ten looked ahead to the spring season today, with winter sports definitely a matter of past history as three more titles were distributed among Michigan, Indiana and Iowa.

Michigan won the most cherished of the three titles decided in a week-end of heavy record-breaking. With a team balance that give them only a meagre advantage with more individual stars, the Wolverines returned to their homes with the indoor track title.

Michigan, however, lost its swimming title to a better balanced Iowa team. A third week-end meet decided the Western conference wrestling championship in Indiana's favor.

Michigan's team championship in the indoor meet at Chicago was overshadowed by Wisconsin's threat. The Badgers finished a close second, 31½ points to Michigan's 33, and became a definite threat for the outdoor title. Indiana finished third with 25½ points, Iowa 10½, Ohio State 10, Chicago 9½-12, Northwestern 8, Minnesota 5, Purdue 2.

The history of our dyestuff industry dates back almost to the founding of the colonies in North America.

Serge Mdivani is Killed By Hoofs of Polo Pony

Wife, Bride of Month, Stricken as Sportsman Dies; Accident During Florida Game Proves Fatal

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 16.—(UP)—The wealthy, blue blooded Van Alens withdrew into their winter villa today to mourn Serge Mdivani, of an adventurous Russian provincial family whose members have twice brought tragedy to the family of American aristocrats.

Sad-eyed Louise Van Alen Mdivani, bride of a month, stood on the edge of a polo field yesterday afternoon and saw her husband kicked to death by his pony. In 1932 she divorced Serge's brother, Alexis. It was no secret at the time she still loved him. Alexis later married Barbara Hutton, five and ten cent store heiress, who also divorced him. He was killed seven months ago in an automobile accident in Spain.

Serge's body was taken from the polo field at Delray Beach to the Van Alen villa, then to a West Palm Beach funeral parlor. It probably will be shipped today to the Van Alen mansion at Newport, R. I., scene of the Van Alen social triumphs of three generations, where funeral services will be held.

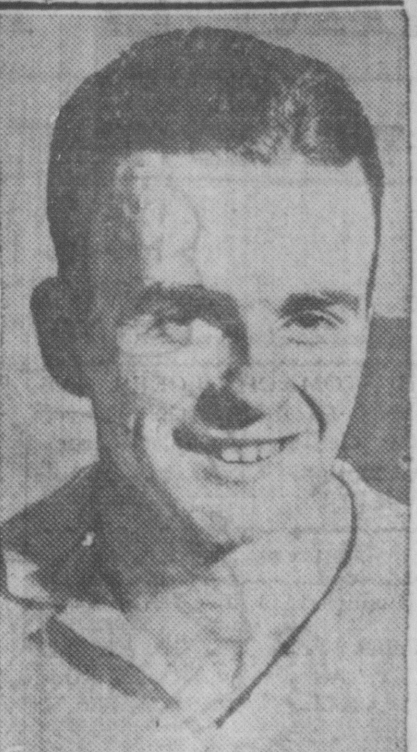

Mrs. Mdivani, who stood like a statue in a pouring rain while ambulance attendants worked over the body of her husband, was understood to have broken once she was in the privacy of her mother's home, where open grief, according to the Van Alen code, was first permissible. Her mother, Mrs. James Laurens Van Alen, who had two Mdivanis for sons-in-laws and had been attacked to both, also was grieving. She was among the 600 society men and women who saw the tragic end of a society polo match.

The accident occurred on the Gulf Stream polo field, one of a chain maintained by the wealthy eastern socialites who spend their winters in Florida, their springs in the Carolines and Virginia, their summers in Europe and their autumn in New York.

Serge, not an expert player like his brother, Alexis, but an enthusiast, was a member of a team comprised of Michael Phipps, E. A. S. Hopping, and C. R. Harrison. The opposing team was comprised, too, of enthusiastic society men with the notable exception of Cecil Smith one of the world's great players.

Serge was pursuing the ball across the field. His pony swerved suddenly, directly into the path of Smith's charging steed. There was a collision. Serge and his mount went down. Serge fell on his face. He did not get up. The pony had kicked his head and doctors believed he died almost instantly of a fractured skull.

Indoor Tennis King

FOURTH triumph in the U. S. indoor singles tennis tournament in five championships was recorded by Gregory Mangin, above, defending champion, as he defeated Leonard Hartman in the New York finals, 6-1, 6-3, 4-6 and 6-3. Mangin won the title in 1932, 1933 and 1934.

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA

No matter how much you liked "Naughty Marietta," that musical sensation of 1935, you're sure to like "Rose Marie" even more. Again co-starring Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production is now screening at the Cliftona theatre.

Like its forerunner, "Rose Marie" was directed by W. S. Van Dyke and produced by Hunt Stromberg, who again combined their talents to give this picture one of the finest productions to come out of Hollywood in a long time.

Replete with haunting music, a tender love story, magnificent photography and backgrounds, it is truly the film sensation of the year.

Miss MacDonald plays the name role, an opera star who travels disguised into the wilds in search of her dissolute brother, a criminal from justice.

Nelson Eddy portrays Sergeant Bruce, as fine a "Mountie" as ever rode a horse. Assigned to bring the criminal to justice, there is the thrust of personal duty when these two meet and fall in love.

With all its outdoor scenes made against natural backgrounds of surpassing beauty in the mountain-lake country of the Sierra Nevada, "Rose Marie" is a pictorial work of art.

AT THE GRAND

Patsy Kelly, by her own confession, spends ten minutes every other month worrying about her looks.

The irresponsible comedienne who joins an all-star cast in "Thanks a Million," at the Grand theatre, is not even worried about her inability to take off weight.

Although she has been working for two years without vacation in Hollywood, she still maintains her plump 136 pounds.

Comedy genius has pushed the Brooklyn girl to the forefront so that she now enjoys starring honors with Dick Powell, Fred Allen, Paul Whiteman and others in "Thanks a Million."

MORE THAN THREE TONS OF CANNED MEAT DISPENSED

COUNTY RELIEF AGENCY AIDING MANY FAMILIES

Complete Figures of Goods Handled Through Marcy's Office Reported

Canned meat, amounting to over three tons, has been distributed through the County Centralized Relief agency during the last two months, detailed report made Monday morning by D. H. Marcy, supervisor, showed.

The report shows the agency is handling 325 relief cases through the city warehouse and township "stores."

Meat is received in No. 2 size cans, each weighing one and one quarter pounds, and since the opening of the agency on Jan. 15, 5,168 cans have been distributed. This surplus commodity is distributed weekly, while others, including milk, prunes, sugar and beans, are shipped in at various times.

Clothing Handled

In addition to the food distribution, all clothing made on the WPA sewing project, E. Main-st., has been handled by the agency.

The complete report of the agency's distributions for the two months follow: milk, 864 cans; towels, 496; prunes, 532 pounds; sugar, 276 pounds; dried beans, 1,050 pounds; 200 cakes of soap, donated; six baskets of groceries; 229 dresses, 134 slips, 69 gowns, 86 shorts, 104 shirts, 18 night shirts, 39 blouses, 29 rompers, 31 pajamas, 71 sheets, 103 mattresses, 148 comforts, 12 knickers, 16 skirts, 6 dust caps, 3 rag rugs, 18 layettes, 12 sleepers, 114 articles of women's underclothing; 15 boys suits, 3 boys pants and numerous other articles donated the agency.

City distributions are made at the warehouse on Saturdays and throughout the county on Friday. Wade Canter is distribution clerk.

SPARKS, FORMER MAYOR, ATTACKS AKRON RADICALS

here from all over like jackals around a carcass that deserves the brand of repudiation."

Sparks appealed for public support "so we can tell these radical leaders to get the hell out of here and we are not going to be too interested in the dignity of their going."

Sparks' Vigilante movement had no connection with the theft of 12 cavalry service pistols and 300 rounds of ammunition from the Akron Armory last night. Police regarded it as done by vandals.

Plant Picketed

Several thousand strikers and sympathizers rallied around the Goodyear gates this morning when reports circulated that the company planned to reopen its plants immediately. No signs of activities being resumed today were evident, however.

An accurate estimate of Sparks' present strength was impossible. To start with he had an estimated 8,000 non-striking rubber workers who want to return to their jobs.

Observers regarded the Vigilante movement seriously. They pointed out that a clash between Vigilantes and strikers might result in a general strike.

A committee of 25 union leaders already is empowered to call a general strike of all Akron rubber workers if trouble develops.

STRIKERS GUARD SCHOOL BUILDING

Students Quit in Protest to Ouster of Teachers

OLIVE BRANCH, Miss., March 16.—(UP)—One hundred students, striking in protest against dismissal of six teachers, prevented opening of the Olive Branch high school today by locking doors and forming picket lines.

The school has an enrollment of 160.

The strikers, supported by parents in their demands for reinstatement of the teachers, arrived at the school, locked the doors and formed their lines.

As the opening bell tolled the students spread out and barred admittance to non-strikers.

TWO TO FACE CHARGES IN NEAR AUTO WRECK

Noble Crawford, 36, of Laurelville, Rt. 2, and Thomas Pritchard, 20, of near Kinderhook, were lodged in city jail Saturday night by Sheriff Charles Radcliff after their auto narrowly missed another car at Franklin and Pickaway-sts.

Officers reported Pritchard, driver would face a charge of reckless driving. Police reported a small quantity of alleged illegal whiskey was found in the auto, and they planned to confer with the prosecutor about charges. The men are scheduled to be before Mayor W. J. Graham Monday evening.

Sheriff Radcliff, answering a call east of the city, was driving directly back of an auto at the intersection when the automobile in which the two men were riding passed the two cars and made a fast turn. He chased the speeding car and arrested the occupants. The liquor was found later.

FRANCE REJECTS HITLER'S CONDITIONS

TWO COUNTRIES VOTE TO ASSIST PREMIER FLANDIN

New Crisis Looms in Europe
as League Council Opens Its Session

CONFAB TO BE LONG

Germany Demands Part in Discussion on Equal Terms With Others

Copyright 1936 By United Press
Today's developments in the Rhine crisis:

LONDON—League council
meets to consider Germany's qualified acceptance of invitation to participate in meetings; rejection
believed certain; Great Britain to continue peace efforts while France
asks for penalties.

LONDON—France angry at German attitude, calls it "Hitler
against the world;" threatens to leave meeting if Germany is backed.

BERLIN—Nazi authority warns
penalties against Germany will
mean repudiation of foreign debt;
Reich confident of ultimate acceptance of Hitler's peace offer.

FRANKFURT—Hitler to speak
tomorrow; big military demonstration on anniversary of compulsory army service decree cancelled
in view of foreign situation.

LONDON, March 16.—(UP)—
France informed the league
council, at a secret session today,
that both of Fuhrer Hitler's conditions in his reply to the council's invitation to attend its sessions are unacceptable.

Hitler's conditions were that Germany must take part in the
council meeting on equal terms
with the others, and that his proposals for a European peace
agreement be considered.

Condition's Unacceptable
"Germany was invited to the council simply as a Locarno
signatory," Foreign Minister Pierre Etienne Flandin of France told
the secret meeting. "Therefore,
Hitler's two conditions are unacceptable."

Britain still strove to get Germany here and Sir Eric Phipps, British ambassador to Berlin, was understood to have been instructed
to ask Hitler to send a representative to the council without stipulations.

The British cabinet, at a noon
meeting, was understood to have
decided Germany's explanation
that the word "Alsbach" does not mean consideration of Hitler's
peace proposals immediately but in
"due course," justifies the new
appeal.

Two Support Flandin
It was learned that at the secret
meeting, Maximim Litvinov of Russia and Nicholas Titulescu of Roumania supported Flandin's demand for rejection of the German reply. Joseph Beck of Poland did
not oppose it.

The speeches continued and the session appeared likely to be a long
one.

will open within six weeks.

DRIVER SLEEPS WHILE POLICE FLAG ENGINE

CHICAGO, March 16.—(UP)—
Police Sergeant Walter Gray and Officer Edgar Peterson
took one look at an automobile
stalled on a railroad crossing,
and another at the train roaring down the tracks.

Frankly, they leaped from their car. Peterson waving down
the train with his flashlight.
The train stopped with its cow-
catcher against the automobile.
Officers peered inside the car,
saw a man asleep.

They roused him long enough to hear his name, Carl W. Gle-
bel. The man slept through his trip to Police Station, and spent
a restless night in his cell.

McNary and Snell Mentioned;
Committee Meets Monday
With Bolton

CLEVELAND, March 16.—(UP)—
Three men were being mentioned
as possible keynoters for the Republican National convention here
next June as the committee on arrangements met today.

The committee was to review
steps taken since January in preparation for the G. O. P. national conclave and to make further plans.

Charles L. McNary, Oregon senator and high tariff advocate; Bertrand Snell, minority floor leader
in the house and a New York con-
John W. Bricker, the Republican candidate for governor of Ohio,
have been mentioned as possible
keynote choices.

The committee gathered today
to meet with Chester C. Bolton,
chairman of the local convention
committee, and James L. E. Jappe,
secretary, to discuss convention
details. Later the group was to visit public hall again to inspect it
and go over plans for changes to accommodate the convention delegates and visitors.

AKRON, March 16.—(UP)—
Former Mayor C. Nelson Sparks intensified his drive today to
purge this industrial city of 250-000 of "out-of-town radical leaders" so that the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. can reopen its strike-
besieged plants.

From his headquarters in Ak-
ron's main hotel, Sparks, physically slight but known as a "fighter",
directed his campaign to recruit
"50,000 Vigilantes by tonight."
Several score of his closest followers milled in his suite, a half-dozen telephones were kept busy
by persons calling to pledge their support.

Proposal Rejected

Sparks, sworn in as a special
deputy sheriff launched his "Vigilante" organization after union
rubber workers, on strike for four weeks because 70 veteran employees were dismissed, shouted
down a Goodyear peace proposal
at a mass meeting.

"There is not any case here involving the rights and privileges
of a decent union organization
striving to protect their jobs," Sparks said in sounding his appeal
over a radio station.

"The law-abiding people of this community have no quarrel with them. It is this handful of miserable, chiseling leeches, labor agi-

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—
(UP)—The story of a 22-year-old mother who gave away her two
tiny daughters to strangers was told today as Mr. and Mrs. Einar
Simonsen moved to adopt Mrs.
Linda Jones' two - months - old
daughter, Dolores.

"I was desperate," the young
mother said, explaining how she

and her husband, who took a third
child, a son, with him, separated
seven months ago. She couldn't bear the thought of her babies
suffering privations, undernourish-
ment or being reared by a step-
father, in the event she remarried,
she said.

From Mrs. Simonsen came the story of how she obtained the

younger of the two Jones' babies.
Strolling in Park
She said she heard how a woman was strolling through Jeffer-
son Square, asking passersby:
"Don't you want a baby? My
away."

"Don't you want a baby? My
away."

Mrs. Simonsen said she went to the park. She found Mrs. Kathleen Elder, who took her to the basement where Mrs. Jones lived with the infants. Mrs. Jones, she said,
wasn't home.

"That's all right, take the baby.
The mother won't mind." Mrs.
Elder purportedly told her. "If you decide not to keep the child, give
it to somebody else."

Mrs. Simonsen took the baby
and went home, leaving her address.

Mother Unworried
Mrs. Jones was unworried about her other child, three-year old Edna.

"I don't know the name of the people who took her," she said.
"But I can find out from Mrs.
Elder. I know the people can give her a lovely home and I'm satisfied with that."

Jones, who has been living with his mother, Mrs. C. H. Hess, in San Bruno, took Marion Edward,
2, with him.

"My husband and I separated
five months before my last baby
was born," Mrs. Jones explained.

Republicans Have Four Contests for Committee

Hedges and Weill, Work and Roth, Mavis and Carothers Vie
in City; All Petitions Approved By Board

Contests for four committeeman positions on the county Republican ticket were disclosed Monday when the board of elections announced it had approved all declarations of candidacies filed up to the deadline Friday evening. There are no Democratic contests.

Primary scraps for committeemen are rare, but the canvass of
the names showed that eight men seek four places. Three of the contests are in Circleville and the other is in north precinct of Scioto-twp.

Hedges, Weill Tangle
Ben T. Hedges, former mayor,
and Harry E. Weill, former election board official, have filed petitions for committeeman from the
first ward east, precinct A; Joe
B. Work and George Roth are running in first ward east, pre-
cinct B; George F. Mavis and Manley Carothers have entered in fourth ward north, precinct E. In Scioto-twp, Charles McKinley and
W. J. Green have filed petitions.

A number of vacancies exist in
the complete roster of committee
petitions.

Petitions of all 34 persons in the primary race were approved when
the board met Saturday.

$267.14 Paid In
L. J. Johnson, clerk, reported
that candidates paid $267.14 to file
petitions. All this money goes into the county treasury.

There is no fee for filing for
positions unless there is a salary
connected with the office, then the cost is one-half of one percent of
the annual compensation.

A different system may be worked out this spring and fall in regard to tabulating the returns.
The election board office will be closed to all persons except workers, while a sheet carrying the
returns just as the board receives
them will probably be available
in some other place. The council chamber is being considered by
the board for its office during
the two important elections.

Blair, county agent, and names
will be furnished farmers who
are in the market for seed.

W. P. A. STRIKERS HOLDING OFFICE OF LA FOLLETTE

Men Declare They Will Hold
Demands Are Met

MADISON, Wis., March 16 —
(UP)—W. P. A. strikers who have occupied the capitol's assembly
chamber since last Thursday today moved into the office of Gov.
Philip F. La Follette.

Five men in work clothes from
among 125 camped on the legislature's plush-carpeted floor took up station outside the door of La Fol-lette's inner office. The governor
has contributed advice and money
to the strikers who warned the
national administration to take
heed or "loss of life is inevitable."

"The strikers demand increase of
their $48-a-month pay and discharge of "strike-breakers." They believe La Follette has sufficient
influence in Washington to get
them a hearing.

PEDESTRIANS KILLED IN STATE AUTOMOBILES

Week-End Toll Nine; Columbus Woman Victim of Hit-Skip Motorist

By UNITED PRESS
Pedestrians were victims of at least six fatal traffic accidents in Ohio over the week-end.

The state's week-end accident toll was nine lives.

Miss Thelma Davis, 30, was struck and killed by a hit-skip automobile driver at Columbus. A witness reported the driver of the car got out, looked at the woman's body, and then drove away.

Rosetta James, 6, Cleveland, was killed by an automobile while walking to Sunday school.

Steve Drago, 40, was fatally hurt by an automobile while walking along a road between Lorain and Elyria.

Howard Irons, 30, was struck and killed at Youngstown and Michael Wattras, 50, was killed in a similar accident near Cleveland.

John W. Smart, 68, of Heckley Corners, O., was struck and killed by an automobile near his home.

The driver was J. C. Roberts, Fremont high school teacher, who was enroute to a basketball tournament at Sandusky.

Harry E. Renner, 22, pushed his wife, Marie, 20, from the rear seat of his motorcycle just before it collided with an automobile driven by Walker Beltz, 18, of Creston, near Akron. Renner was killed and his wife received bruises.

Floyd A. Lewis, 32, Jackson-co farmer, was killed when his car left the road at a curve and plunged over a 30-foot embankment.

An automobile collision near Dayton resulted in the death of Robert Medford, 27, of Vandalia, and serious injury of his wife, Gertrude, 22.

K. OF P. TO INITIATE CLASS THIS EVENING

Philos lodge No. 64, Knights of Pythias, will exemplify the Knight rank on a class of candidates Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the Pythian Castle.

Another class will be initiated later in March with initiatory work planned through the spring and early summer.

A renewed interest and activity is being reported by officers of the local chapter, and through the state and nation.

Pythianism in Ohio maintains two fine homes in Springfield for the aged and for orphans. The children are provided high school educations, and a fund is provided for higher learning if desired.

all Tales

PICKAWAY-CO. was known years ago for its numerous flocks of wild turkeys, and a tall story was offered today on these birds.

A local farmer, before retiring one night, heard turkeys in a tree near his home. He decided he would arise quite early the next morning and get the birds. During the night a sleet storm descended on the vicinity and the following morning the tree was filled with turkeys and their feet were frozen to the branches.

The farmer called in a number of neighbors and they decided to cut down the tree and there would be turkeys for everyone. When the last ax stroke was made the turkeys all started flapping their wings, and went sailing away with the huge tree.

GOTHAM STRIKE REACHES CLOSE

Elevators in Use; Dry Goods Tie-Up Flaring Monday

NEW YORK, March 16.—(UP)—Thousands of New Yorkers rode elevators to offices and apartments today for the first time in 15 days as 40,000 building service workers ended a strike begun March 1.

Simultaneously a strike of wholesale dry goods workers disrupted an industry that does a $100,000,000 business annually with retailers throughout the country.

The dry goods strike began yesterday with employees of the E. I. B. company and Mandel & Cohen, two of the city's largest jobbers.

James J. Bambrick, local union president, credited Mayor La Guardia with winning the settlement in the elevator fight.

ELKS CHOOSE OFFICERS AT TUESDAY'S MEETING

TOMATO SANDWICH SALAD

Fill shallow loaf pan $\frac{1}{2}$ full of Tomato Aspic. Chill. Soak one teaspoon gelatin in two tablespoons cold water and dissolve over boiling water. Add to one cup mayonnaise and mix well. Spread this over firm layer of tomato in pan. Again chill. When this has set, cover with another layer of Tomato Aspic and place in refrigerator until ready to serve. Unmold on salad plate and surround with small heart leaves of lettuce. Slice, or cut in squares for serving. Serves 8 to 10. No extra salad dressing is necessary. May be prepared in individual molds if desired. For variation add $\frac{1}{2}$ cup mayonnaise, 1 cup cottage cheese, season with grated onion.

This recipe was accompanied by a Circle City Dairy bottle cap.

HAM LOAF

1 lb. cured ham
1 lb. fresh ham
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups milk
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup Minute Tapioca
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce
2 eggs. (Mix all ingredients together and form in a loaf. This mixture is very moist. It will hold its shape much better, if placed in the refrigerator a short time before baking).
Sauce
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups brown sugar
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup vinegar
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup water
1 tablespoon mustard
Boil sauce 5 minutes and let cool. Pour sauce over the ham loaf. Bake 2 hours in a moderate oven. Baste every half hour.

This recipe was accompanied by a Circle City Dairy bottle cap.

THIRD PRIZE

Submitted by
Mrs. K. J. Herrmann
118 N. Washington St.

CHEESE PUFFS

1 egg
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk
1 cup grated cheese
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
Salt and pepper.
Beat egg; add milk and sift dry ingredients, cheese and seasonings. Beat well. Drop by spoonfuls into hot fat 375 F. Fry to a golden brown and drain on absorbent paper. Serve as a luncheon dish with Rarebit Sauce.

Rarebit Sauce

1 teaspoon Cornstarch
1 tablespoon fat
1 cup rich milk or thin cream
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup mild cheese cut in pieces
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon baking powder
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon dry mustard
Dash of cayenne

Melt fat, add cornstarch and mustard mixed together. Stir until well mixed; then add milk gradually stirring constantly. Cook until thickened, add cheese and stir until melted. Add baking powder and seasoning. This is a splendid Lenten dish.

This recipe was accompanied by a Laurelville Milling Co. flour sack.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Do you know that Pepper is the most widely used condiment in the average home, yet few housekeepers state the variety they want when ordering it. Black and white pepper are both from the same source, the fruit of a climbing shrub. The real strength of the pepper berry is found in the outer shells of which Black pepper is made. In White pepper these outer shells are partially removed. White pepper is easier to digest and is preferred in cream soup and sauces. Cayenne or red pepper comes from the capsicum plant and is an extremely hot pepper. Paprika which is a pulverized sweet red pepper, is not so fiery in taste but adds a mild peppery flavor to food. There are two kinds of Paprika, the Hungarian which is very pungent and the Spanish which is very mild.

To make strong tea, instead of using more tea leaves, add a lump of sugar to the pot. This causes the leaves to open and improves the flavor.

Imagine the cook who takes a scoop of this, a pinch of that and a dash of the other—tosses 'em together and passes the stuff over the flame. No one would eat this cook's food, but many do buy photographs made in the same style. We use tested chemicals, approved formulas and meticulous methods—the only assurance of pictures that last.

Business Women Attend District Session Sunday

Meeting in Athens; Two Club Parties Here This Week

The Business and Professional Women's club, which is busy this week with social activities, was represented at the social meeting of the Southeast district of the Ohio Business and Professional Women's clubs held Sunday at the Berry Hotel in Athens.

Nine members motored down for the dinner at noon. A musical program was presented during the dinner hour and following. Besides the musical numbers an interesting talk was given by Miss Mary Vashti Jones of Zanesville, a former state president.

In the local group were Miss Charlotte Phelps, president, Mrs. W. E. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Harry Stevenson, Miss Charlotte McEwing, Miss Mary Wilder, Miss Minnie Palm, Mrs. Harp Van Riper, Miss Elma Rains, and Miss Florence Dunton.

Thursday evening the local club will have its annual Public Relations dinner in the club room at 6:30 o'clock at which the faculty of the high school and members of the Board of Education will be guests.

Dean Justina Eich of Capital university will be the guest speaker.

Tomorrow evening the card party being given by the club for the benefit of its educational fund will be held in the Memorial hall for which reservations are being made with Miss Lillian Young.

Miss Florence Marie Briner, this city, whose course at Capital university is being sponsored by the club, was the only Pickaway co-student among the thirty-five at the school listed on the honor roll for the first semester. She is a freshman at the university.

Euchre Party

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Young of Circleville-twp entertained a group of their friends at their home Friday evening.

Euchre was the planned diversion of the enjoyable party and was in play at four tables.

After six rounds of play a dainty salad course was served by the hosts after which several more rounds were enjoyed. Prizes in the game were awarded Roy Stout, Eymann Wolf, Jack Justice, Mrs. Roy Stout, and Mrs. W. M. Justice.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Merl Klingensmith, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bowser of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Justice, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Justice, Mr. and Mrs. Eymann Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stout, Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Pierce, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Riffle.

League Meeting

The Child Conservation league will meet in regular session Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the library trustees' room and following the meeting the group will visit the W. P. A. sewing center in charge of Mrs. Beulah Madison to see the work being done there.

Dinner Guests

COUGHING AGAIN?

DON'T be that worst pest of all—the frequent sufferer from coughs due to colds—who passes germs on to her friends in the office and at every party. Sturdy, vigorous people who keep themselves in good physical condition are not so frequently the ones who sneeze and cough.

Buy Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery from your druggist today. It increases the appetite, aids digestion and thereby helps to build greater physical resistance. It has also proved of value in relieving coughs due to colds. Try it!

150-POUND DYNAMO! Tommy Bridges, of the World Champion Tigers, says: "Ball players have to watch digestion. I find Camels a real aid in helping digestion. They serve me right!"

Smoking Camels eases tension—stimulates digestion—and fosters a feeling of well-being! . . .

Again and again, we make up for lost time by eating in a hurry. Digestion must meet the strain. How fortunate that smoking Camels during and after meals definitely stimulates digestion and helps to ward off the effects of our hurried, nerve-racking life—by aiding and restoring the natural flow of the digestive fluids. Today, the pleasure of smoking Camels is being everywhere recognized as a comforting and healthful part of the art of dining. Camels are incomparably mild. They never get on your nerves or tire your taste. Enjoy Camels for their matchless blend of costlier tobaccos—for their energizing "lift"—for the welcome feeling of well-being they bring you. Camels set you right!

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE—Turkish and Domestic—than any other.

STEEPLEJACK JOE BECK: "Many a time my stomach tightens in a high spot—but you wouldn't know it from the hearty way I eat. I'm very careful about keeping good digestion—I smoke Camels. They help to stimulate my digestion."

MANY NEW FIVES ENTERED IN OHIO COURT CONTESTS

Only 12 of 32 Teams Returning; Canton and Marietta Considered Contenders

The pairings for Thursday's first round Class A games follow:

- 1 p. m., Cincinnati Elder vs. Newark; 2 p. m., Ashland vs. Akron S.; 3 p. m., Bowling Green vs. Miamisburg; 4 p. m., Bridgeport vs. Cleveland Holy Name; 6 p. m., Carrollton vs. Toledo Woodward; 7 p. m., Marietta vs. Akron Buchtel; 8 p. m., Canton McKinley vs. Dayton Roosevelt; 9 p. m., Findlay vs. Elyria.

COLUMBUS, March 16.—(UP)—Names with an unfamiliar ring to followers of the annual Ohio scholastic basketball tournament dominate the entry list of state meet to be held here Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Delegated to the sidelines, as representatives of schools victorious in the recent district tournaments gathered here today to draw for opponents, were such staunch tournament favorites of past years as Dayton Stivers, Janesville, Dover, Akron West, Columbus Central, and Columbus North.

In their places were schools that will make their initial bid for a place in the schoolboy basketball spotlight.

Many Are Strangers

Of the 32 competitors for the state meet, only 12 have ever previously taken part in a tournament where since play went under the supervision of the Ohio High School Athletic association in 1923.

Nine of the competing Class A schools have participated at least once before, but the Class B list shows only three entrants that ever before vied for the scholastic crown.

Class A schools that have competed before are Canton McKinley, Akron South, Bowling Green, Findlay, Ashland, Carrollton, Dayton Roosevelt, Miamisburg and Marietta.

The teams that will make their tournament debuts are Bridgeport, Akron Buchtel, Elyria, Cleveland Holy Name, Toledo Woodward, Newark, and Cincinnati Elder.

The three B schools, each of which competed once before, are: Lowellville, Rawson and Granville. The newcomers are: Amsterdam, Dennison, South Amherst, Canal Fulton, Sandusky St. Marys, Point Place, Celina Public, Millersport, Ross Township, Waynesville, Lucasville, and Leesburg.

Only two of the Class A competitors have shown often enough to become tournament standouts, namely Canton McKinley and Marietta's fifth.

The trip here this week will be the sixth for McKinley and Marietta's fifth.

Lost to Dayton Five

The Canton school competed previously in 1924-25-26-27-28. In 1928 it went to the finals before falling 25 to 20 before a Dayton Stivers team that opened with the triumph a three year reign of the state's scholastic court domain.

In 1930, as Stivers completed its tenure as the schoolboy king, McKinley was beaten 25 to 18 by the Dayton team in the semi-final round. A year later it went to the finals before losing a 20 to 19 overtime contest to Portsmouth.

For four seasons Canton failed to make the grade, but it is back now and must be considered a powerful championship possibility.

Marietta came to the state meet in 1923-24-25-26-27. Its best performance was in 1933 when Jimmy Whiting, the ace of Marietta's color, won the Ohio conference championship five during the past season, led it to the finals before it lost to Dover 34 to 23.

NOTRE DAME VICTORIOUS IN CENTRAL TRACK MEET

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 16.—(UP)—Notre Dame was champion of the central intercollegiate track conference again today, after a four-year furlough from the throne it occupied for six years in a row.

The Irish winners annually from 1927 to 1932, recaptured the championship Saturday night with 11½ points, far ahead of Marquette's second-place total of 20½. Pittsburgh, favorite and defender, finished third with 18½, followed by Drake 15½, Michigan Normal 15, Michigan State 15, Wayne State 8, Carleton 4½, Grinnell 4, Ohio University 4, Washington University 3.

A highway linking Lima and Arequipa, Peru, has been completed, opening up to tourist travel number of Incan ruins.

About This And That In Many Sports

What Of Softball Loop?

The question of a softball league for Circleville has come up again, and, as usual there are several important things to be settled before such a league can become a reality—First is financing; second is a proper location; third is umpiring.

All Are Important

Each question is sufficient to cause much apprehension before persons interested launch a league. The financial subject is always ticklish—Last year a fence was built and a backstop erected, then the league was broke—Collections could not be forced, and an effort to obtain money by charging admission for automobiles resulted in auto drivers keeping their vehicles off the field, or staying at home—There is absolutely no chance to charge fair into the games—it is taken for granted the "Southern Ohio Electric Co. field, loaned with no charge at all by utility officials, is not suitable because of possibility of high water which last year, forced the end of the season—The umpiring topic has, and ever will be, too difficult for most team managers—When a man is working without pay, it is hard to obtain an arbiter who will take time to learn the rules of the game, be present in time to start every game, and take the responsibility he should.

Must Answer Questions

A league would be mighty fine, and there is no one who would like better than the Junior of this column to have a league, but will someone please come through with answers to the three questions before calling a meeting to start organization.

Monday's Brainstorm

HERR PROFESSOR ZADOK DUMBKOFF ate five limberger meringue sandwiches with plenty of dil pickle, knocked off four cups of coffee and sat down to enjoy his newspaper. He fell asleep.

When Dumbkopf awakened eight hours later he looked pale and haggard from his exertions as jockey to a stable of high-spirited nightmares.

"I've been dreaming about the things I read on the front page," said the professor, "and now I have the world news well in hand."

"Dizzy Dean is a holdout in the Liberty league but I don't think they should permit Shirley Temple to remilitarize the Rhineland. Sanctions may be applied against Joe Louis."

"The Dionne quintuplets are secretly mobilizing as a result of the secret, non-aggression pact between Rudy Vallee and Governor Alf Landon."

"Soil Erosion is a good bet in the third race at Tropical park but my money is on Rainy Season with B. Mussolini up."

"Manchoukuo is a cinch to win the Olympics though we must concede the 100-yard dash to Anthony Eden. Frank Buck is planning a safari to Detroit and hopes to bring the Tigers back alive. Weather report: Deans will be dizzier with an increase in Borah in the middlewest. Not much change in temperature."

STRATEGY OF KANSAS ACE WINS COLUMBIAN FEATURE

NEW YORK, March 16.—(UP)—Glenn Cunningham, barrel-chested Kansas runner and world record holder for the mile, revealed today that he didn't decide on the strategy which won him the Columbian mile in the K. of C. games in Madison square garden Saturday night until after the race was under way.

Cunningham's surprise tactics consisted of making Joe Mangano, Cornell graduate student, and Gene Venzke, Pennsylvanian, set the pace in the strangest race ever run indoors in New York. Only 250 yards of the weird event proved a race, but in that driving finish to the tape Cunningham drew one of the greatest ovations of the season from the crowd of 17,600. Cunningham, who trailed all the way, passed his two rivals, who have beaten him consistently all season, and won by three yards in the amazingly slow time of 4 minutes, 46.8 seconds.

FOXX CLUBS HOME RUN

TAMPA, Fla., March 16.—(UP)—A home run by Jimmy Foxx which traveled 457 feet on the fly featured yesterday's game between the Cincinnati Reds and Boston Red Sox. The Reds collected 16 hits, and won 13 to 8. Foxx hit his long homer off Gene Schott with two men on base.

Coach at Cornell

CARL G. SNAVELY, successful football coach at the University of North Carolina, is new coach at Cornell, having signed a three-year contract at a salary believed to be $8,500 a year. Snavely steps into the post vacated by the resignation of Gil Dobie, who now is head coach at Boston college.

MICHIGAN WINS BIG TEN INDOOR CONTEST HONORS

CHICAGO, March 16.—(UP)—The Big Ten looked ahead to the spring season today, with winter sports definitely a matter of past history as three more titles were distributed among Michigan, Indiana and Iowa.

Michigan won the most cherished of the three titles decided in a week-end of heavy record-breaking. With a team balance that gave them only a meagre advantage with more individual stars, the Wolverines returned to their homes with the indoor track title.

Michigan, however, lost its swimming title to a better balanced Iowa team. A third week-end meet decided the Western conference wrestling championship in Indiana's favor.

Michigan's team championship in the indoor meet at Chicago was overshadowed by Wisconsin's threat. The Badgers finished a close second, 31½ points to Michigan's 33, and became a definite threat for the outdoor title. Indiana finished third with 25½ points, Iowa 10½, Ohio State 10, Chicago 9.5-12, Northwestern 8, Minnesota 5, Purdue 2.

The history of our dyestuff industry dates back almost to the founding of the colonies in North America.

Wife, Bride of Month, Stricken as Sportsman Dies; Accident During Florida Game Proves Fatal

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 16.—(UP)—The wealthy, blue blooded Van Alens withdrew into their winter villa today to mourn Serge Mdivani, of an adventurous Russian provincial family whose members have twice brought tragedy to the family of American aristocrats.

Sad-eyed Louise Van Alen Mdivani, bride of a month, stood on the edge of a polo field yesterday afternoon and saw her husband kicked to death by his pony.

1932 she divorced Serge's brother, Alexis. It was no secret at the time she still loved him. Alexis later married Barbara Hutton, five and ten cent store heiress, who also divorced him. He was killed seven months ago in an automobile accident in Spain.

Serge's body was taken from the polo field at Delray Beach to the Van Alen villa, then to a West Palm Beach funeral parlor. It probably will be shipped today to the Van Alen mansion at Newport, R. I., scene of the Van Alen social triumphs of three generations, where funeral services will be held.

Mrs. Mdivani, who stood like a statue in a pouring rain while ambulance attendants worked over the body of her husband, was understood to have broken once she was in the privacy of her mother's home, where open grief, according to the Van Alen code, was first permissible. Her mother, Mrs. James Laurens Van Alen, who had two Mdivanis for sons-in-law and had been attacked to both, also was grieving. She was among the 600 society men and women who saw the tragic end of a society polo match.

The accident occurred on the Gulf Stream polo field, one of a chain maintained by the wealthy eastern socialites who spend their winters in Florida, their springs in the Carolines and Virginia, their summers in Europe and their autumn in New York.

Serge, not an expert player like his brother, Alexis, but an enthusiast, was a member of a team comprised of Michael Phipps, E. A. S. Hopping, and C. R. Harrison. The opposing team was comprised, too, of enthusiastic society men with the notable exception of Cecil Smith one of the world's great players.

Serge was pursuing the ball across the field. His pony swerved suddenly, directly into the path of Smith's charging steed. There was a collision. Serge and his mount went down. Serge fell on his face. He did not get up. The pony had kicked his head and doctors believed he died almost instantly of a fractured skull.

Indoor Tennis King

FOURTH triumph in the U. S. Indoor singles tennis tournament in five championships was recorded by Gregory Mangin, above, defending champion, as he defeated Leonard Hartman in the New York finals, 6-1, 6-3, 4-6 and 6-3. Mangin won the title in 1932, 1933 and 1934.

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA

No matter how much you liked "Naughty Marietta," that musical sensation of 1935, you're sure to like "Rose Marie" even more. Again co-starring Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production is now screening at the Cliftona theatre.

Like its forerunner, "Rose Marie" was directed by W. S. Van Dyke and produced by Hunt Stromberg, who again combined their talents to give this picture one of the finest productions to come out of Hollywood in a long time.

Replete with haunting music, a tender love story, magnificent photography and backgrounds, it is truly the film sensation of the year.

Miss MacDonald plays the name role, an opera star who travels disguised into the wilds in search of her dissolute brother, a criminal from justice.

With all its outdoor scenes made against natural backgrounds of surpassing beauty in the mountain-lake country of the Sierra Nevada, "Rose Marie" is a pictorial work of art.

AT THE GRAND

Patsy Kelly, by her own confession, spends ten minutes every other month worrying about her looks.

The irrepressible comedienne who joins an all-star cast in "Thanks a Million," at the Grand theatre, is not even worried about her inability to take off weight.

Although she has been working for two years without vacation in Hollywood, she still maintains her plump 136 pounds.

Comedy genius has pushed the Brooklyn girl to the forefront so that she now enjoys starring honors with Dick Powell, Fred Allen, Paul Whiteman and others in "Thanks a Million."

MORE THAN THREE TONS OF CANNED MEAT DISPENSED

Complete Figures of Goods Handled Through Marcy's Office Reported

Canned meat, amounting to over three tons, has been distributed through the County Centralized Relief Agency during the last two months, detailed report made Monday morning by D. H. Marcy, supervisor, showed.

The report shows the agency is handling 325 relief cases through the city warehouse and township "stores."

Meat is received in No. 2 size cans, each weighing one and one quarter pounds, and since the opening of the agency on Jan. 15, 5,186 cans have been distributed. This surplus commodity is distributed weekly, while others, including milk, prunes, sugar and beans, are shipped in at various times.

Clothing Handled
In addition to the food distribution, all clothing made on the WPA sewing project, E. Main-st., has been handled by the agency.

The complete report of the agency's distributions for the two months follow: milk, 864 cans; towels, 496; prunes, 532 pounds; sugar, 276 pounds; dried beans, 1,050 pounds; 200 cakes of soap, donated; six baskets of groceries; 229 dresses, 134 slips, 69 gowns, 86 shorts, 104 shirts, 18 night shirts, 39 blouses, 29 rompers, 31 pajamas, 71 sheets, 103 mattresses, 148 comforts, 12 knickers, 16 skirts, 6 dust caps, 3 rag rugs, 18 jayettes, 12 sleepers, 114 articles of women's underclothing; 15 boys suits, 3 boys pants and numerous other articles donated the agency. City distributions are made at the warehouse on Saturdays and at the county on Friday. Waste Center is distribution clerk.

here from all over like jackals around a carcass that deserves the brand of repudiation."

Sparks' Vigilante movement had no connection with the theft of 12 cavalry service pistols and 300 rounds of ammunition from the Akron Armory last night. Police regarded it as done by vandals.

Plant Picketed

Several thousand strikers and sympathizers rallied around the Goodyear gates this morning when reports circulated that the company planned to reopen its plants immediately. No signs of activities being resumed today were evident, however.

An accurate estimate of Sparks' present strength was impossible. To start with he had an estimated 8,000 non-striking rubber workers who want to return to their jobs. Observers regarded the Vigilante movement seriously. They pointed out that a clash between Vigilantes and strikers might result in a general strike.

A committee of 25 union leaders already is empowered to call a general strike of all Akron rubber workers if trouble develops.

Students Quit in Protest to Ouster of Teachers

OLIVE BRANCH, Miss., March 16.—(UP)—One hundred students, striking in protest against dismissal of six teachers, prevented opening of the Olive Branch high school today by locking doors and forming picket lines.

The school has an enrollment of 160.

The strikers, supported by parents in their demands for reinstatement of the teachers, arrived at the school, locked the doors and formed their lines.

As the opening bell tolled the students spread out and barred admittance to non-strikers.

TWO TO FACE CHARGES IN NEAR AUTO WRECK

Noble Crawford, 36, of Laurelville, Rt. 2, and Thomas Pritchard, 20, of near Kinderhook, were lodged in city jail Saturday night by Sheriff Charles Radcliff after their auto narrowly missed another car at Franklin and Pickaway-sts.

Officers reported Pritchard, driver would face a charge of reckless driving. Police reported a small quantity of alleged illegal whiskey was found in the auto, and they planned to confer with the prosecutor about charges. The men are scheduled to be before Mayor W. J. Graham Monday evening.

Sheriff Radcliff, answering a call east of the city, was driving directly back of an auto at the intersection when the automobile in which the two men were riding passed the two cars and made a fast turn. He chased the speeding car and arrested the occupants. The liquor was found later.

COUNTY CATTLE FEEDERS ARRANGE TOUR MARCH 26

Pickaway-co cattle feeders have changed the date of their annual tour from March 27 to March 26, Farm Bureau officials announced Monday.

Carl W. Gay of the animal husbandry department of Ohio State university, has been obtained as the speaker, and Paul Abt, a representative of the Pittsburgh Co-Operative Commission association, will serve as appraiser. L. F. McCann, of Ohio State university, well known in this district, is expected on the tour.

Feeders are to meet at the Farm Bureau offices at 9 a. m. and hope to reach New Holland about 12:30 for the banquet. The place of the banquet and tour stops have not been definitely decided but will be announced later. Farm Bureau officials stated.
